

What do the colours and pictograms mean?

To make it easier for the participants to find their way through the programme, the conference's main themes are signalled by colours and pictograms. Each breakout session is allocated under one of the main themes and signalled by the respective colour:

The cross-cutting themes of the conference are also tagged by pictograms. Likewise, each breakout session displays one or more of the above shown tags, which make reference to the cross-cutting themes discussed within them:
